Cost Analysis: (Possible considerations—Unit Costs, Delivery, Labor, Processing, Installation, Profit etc.)
After speaking with the school districts and fresh bakery distributors an increase in fresh bakery prices is to be expected considering the rising costs of materials, distribution problems, and product limitations. The cost of fuel and expected considering the rising costs of materials, distribution problems, and product limitations. The cost of fuel and materials has continued to soar over the last year due to COVID-19. These factors have driven the fresh bakery industry to not only raise prices but restrict products and services. Since we have performed our pre and post cost analysis at a coop level we have provided each district the means to score and evaluate their individual district bid responses. They have been provided an award matrix, cost analysis sheet, and instructions on how to evaluate their bid(s).
